MODEL: BMW's NEW 3 Series Convertible

Factory Orders being taken

- Spring 2007 marks the introduction of BMW's New 3 Series Convertible.
- Available initially in 325i and 335i guises, but followed closely by smaller engine variants and diesel-powered models, BMW's
- open-top will deliver the ultimate in performance and refinement thanks to a number of innovations. Featuring the first
- electronically operated folding hard-top roof is offered by BMW, the worlds first car to be offered with Sun-Reflective cooling
- and a brace of all-new power-plants, the 3 series Convertible is set to remain the segment leader
- The fourth generation of BMW's open-top four-seater heralds a new chapter in the history of the BMW convertible!
- While the existing triple-layered fabric roofs currently showcased in the 6 Series Convertible and the Z4 Roadster are unsurpassed
- in heat and noise insulation, the designers of the new 3 Series Convertible decided to raise the bar again. The model now comes
- with a three-piece electronically-operated retractable hard-top..... a first for BMW.
- Stowed or raised in approximately 22 seconds, the new roof has been introduced, not only for added security, but also for better
- visibility and a greater feeling of space and light for the occupants. Because the roof features a larger rear glass windscreen and
- side windows, visibility has improved by 38 per cent compared to the outgoing 3 Series Convertible.
- Launch Date
- The new 3 Series Convertible goes on sale on Saturday 24 March 2007.
- Engine variants available at launch
- The following models will be available at launch:
- 325i SE (N53, Six-cylinder, 2996cc, 218 hp, Petrol engine with high-precision direct injection)
- 335i SE (N54, Six-cylinder, 2979cc, 306 hp, Twin turbo petrol engine with high-precision direct injection)
